Report on Bohada Festival

Mokhada is a small taluka situated close to Nature. There are tribal people in the entire taluka. Tribal people believe and follow their culture by celebrating cultural festival. Mokhada village is considered to be birth place of the Bohada festival. After holi, this festival is celebrated every night for five days in the guise of characters from Ramayana and Mahabharata. Bohada is celebrated around Jagdamba Mata temple of Mokhada with great enthusiasm every year. The festival is celebrated in differant Villages such as Mokhada, Khodala, Karegaon, Dhobichapada in Mokhada Tehsil. Tribal and non-tribal people from nearby places attend this festival.

In the festival, students of Arts, Science & Commerce College, Mokhada take part and perform various roles of god & goddess and teachers happily and enthusiastically participate to see it. In this festival 52 Masks of Indian gods and goddess are exhibited. Mask owners wear these masks and give several performances during the celebration. The mask owners are responsible for maintain their masks. These masks are renovated every year some days before the festival and later on preserved for next year. Bohada is to show gratitude to the village goddess. It reflects cultural & communal harmony towards tribal community. All the people happily celebrate Bohada festival in Mokhada taluka.
